

Incoming Students in the Double Master's Programme Religion in the Public Sphere

Courses in the Master's Programme

You have to take courses in the following modules:

- Thematic Module I: Education and Research
- Thematic Module II: Politics and Law

The thematic modules consist of two courses and one examination per module.

- Field Module

In the Field Module, you can decide between doing a one-month internship or designing and conducting a smaller research project.

All three modules are worth 10 ECTS.

The preliminary course catalogue will be published at the end of July on our website.

Unfortunately, we cannot answer questions about courses before that.

Double Degree

Application Deadline

Students in the double degree programme must apply at Leibniz University by the 15th of July!

This application must be made via LUH's application portal. Otherwise, students cannot acquire a degree from our university. More information on the application process can be found on our website.

Credit Points / ECTS

To receive the degree from LUH, students need to successfully pass all three modules (= 30 ECTS) during their semester in Hannover and write the master's thesis in collaboration with an instructor at our institute.
